DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
2. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:
  1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
  2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
  3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
  4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
3. Claims 1-3, 5, 7, 8, 9, 11, and 13-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over applicant's admission of the prior art in view of Amin.

Applicant admits that allocating a temporary user identification code to the user when a session with the wireless data network is open, wherein the temporary user identification code is de-allocated when the session is closed is prior art and not invented by him (page 1 of the specification). Amin teaches the well known steps of associating a user identification code with a service class and servicing a user according to the service class associated with the user identification code (note previous Office actions) for the same purpose as Applicant and it is also noted from Applicant's specification that the invention also uses a permanent user identification codes (page 3) same as Amin. Hence, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the claimed invention was made to incorporate the use of the particular known technique of the well known steps of associating a user identification code with a service class and servicing a user according to the service class associated with the user identification code, as taught by Amin, in the admitted prior art in order to allow the network to distinguish among different users and link a given user with the corresponding level of service.

The invention is also obvious for the following reasons and to traverse fully this rejection Applicants MUST address the above reason and all and each the following reasons:

- i. The invention would have been obvious because a particular known technique was recognized as part of the ordinary capabilities of one skilled in the art. KSR INTERNATIONAL CO. v. TELEFLEX INC. 82 USPQ2d 1385.
- ii. All the invention steps were known in the prior art and one skilled in the art could have combined the steps as claimed by known methods with no change in their respective functions, and the combination would yielded predictable results to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention. KSR INTERNATIONAL CO. v. TELEFLEX INC. 82 USPQ2d 1385.
- iii. The invention would have been obvious because the technique for improving a particular method was part of the ordinary capabilities of a person of ordinary skill in the art, in view of the teaching of the technique for improving in other situations. KSR INTERNATIONAL CO. v. TELEFLEX INC.

82 USPQ2d 1385.

4. Claims 1-3, 5, 7, 8, 9, 11, and 13-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Furuya, et al.

Furuya, et al discloses steps of associating a user identification code with a service class and servicing a user according to the service class associated with the user identification code (figure 6). Furuya, et al does not disclose a temporary user identification code to the user when a session with the wireless data network is open, wherein the temporary user identification code is de-allocated when the session. The Examiner takes Official Notice that a temporary user identification code to the user when a session with the wireless data network is open, wherein the temporary user identification code is de-allocated when the session is old and well known in the art. Applicant admits that allocating a temporary user identification code to the user when a session with the wireless data network is open, wherein the temporary user identification code is de-allocated when the session is closed is prior art and not invented by him (page 1 of the specification). Hence, it would have been very obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the claimed invention was made to incorporate the old, well know, and admitted a temporary user identification code to the user when a session with the wireless data network is open, wherein the temporary user identification code is de-allocated when the session in the method of Furuya, et al, in order to provide the well know purpose of network security and resource management.

The invention is also obvious for the following reasons and to traverse fully this rejection Applicants MUST address the above reason and all and each the following reasons:

i) The invention would have been obvious because a particular known technique was recognized as part of the ordinary capabilities of one skilled in the art. KSR INTERNATIONAL CO. v. TELEFLEX INC. 82 USPQ2d 1385.

ii) All the invention steps were known in the prior art and one skilled in the art could have combined the steps as claimed by known methods with no change in their respective functions, and the combination would yielded predictable results to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention. KSR INTERNATIONAL CO. v. TELEFLEX INC. 82 USPQ2d 1385.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

7. A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

8. If applicant wishes to request for an interview, an "Applicant Initiated Interview Request" form (PTOL-413A) should be submitted to the examiner prior to the interview in order to permit the examiner to prepare in advance for the interview and to focus on the issues to be discussed. This form should identify the participants of the interview, the proposed date of the interview, whether the interview will be personal, telephonic, or video conference, and should include a brief description of the issues to be discussed. A copy of the completed "Applicant Initiated Interview Request" form should be attached to the Interview Summary form, PTOL-413 at the completion of the interview and a copy should be given to applicant or applicant's representative.

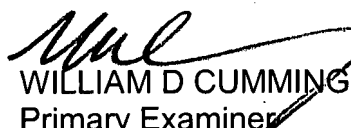

9. If applicants request an interview after this final rejection, prior to the interview, the intended purpose and content of the interview should be presented briefly, in writing. Such an interview may be granted if the examiner is convinced that disposal or clarification for appeal may be accomplished with only nominal further consideration. Interviews merely to restate arguments of record or to discuss new limitations which would require more than nominal reconsideration or new search will be denied.

10. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to WILLIAM D. CUMMING whose telephone number is 571-272-7861. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Thursday, 11:00am-8:00pm.
